Pathway 2 and 3 – Target based course to improve life skills

This target-based Pathway 2 and 3 course at NPTC Group of Colleges is designed to support students in developing independence, confidence and essential life skills. Students also improve literacy, numeracy and communication skills through a personalised programme delivered across four key pillars of learning: Independent Living, Employability, Community Inclusion and Personal and Social Development. Learning is delivered through an individual target-based approach using RARPA (Recognising and Recording Progress and Achievement) to support, monitor and record student progress and achievement.

Entry Requirements

There are no formal entry requirements. Students are assessed at the start of the course and placed on the most appropriate pathway based on their individual needs, abilities and personal targets.

Career Prospects

Students may progress to other pathway courses, supported internships or voluntary opportunities. The course also supports the development of transferable skills that promote future independence, employability and community participation.

Course Modules

This course is designed to improve students life skills and sample a number of areas whilst developing literacy and numeracy skills. It is a personal target-based course (RARPA) to help facilitate any areas for improvements

Assessment

Assessment is ongoing and based on individual student targets and outcomes. Progress and achievement are monitored and recorded through the RARPA process, including learner reviews, practical activities, evidence of participation and achievement of personal goals.

Additional Costs

Please contact the college for information regarding any additional course-related costs.
